CONSTIPATION
"Is called the 'Father of Diseases' because there is no medium through which disease so often attacks the system as by the absorption of poisonous gases in the retention of feces and effluvia in the stomach and bowels. It is caused by a Torpid Liver, the bile being secreted from the blood to produce Nature's own cathartic, and is generally accompanied with such results as

Loss of Appetite,
Sick Headache,
Bad Breath, etc.

The treatment of Constipation does not consist merely in unloading the bowels. The medicine must not only act as a purgative, but also as a tonic, and not only so, but it must also act as a cathartic, and it must be of such a nature as to change the diet or reorganizing the system.

Sometimes the color of the boot is varied to match the hue of the toilet of the lady guest to whom it is served, gracefully furnishing the crimson, pistache pale green, and a new and perfectly inconspicuous coloring matter is used in supplying a delicate pale blue. The oldest device is a slice of pate de foie gras, one of which is served to each guest. It is in chocolate ice, trifles being simulated by thin slices of liquorice paste, and the surrounding jelly being sweet and flavored with liquor instead of being savory. When well done the deception is perfect. -Paris Cor. St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

The Offense of Lying.
President Eliot struck the right note the other day when he characterized lying as the one unpardonable offense which the faculty of Harvard would not forgive. West Point has always acted on this principle, and to such extent that the cadets themselves will not work at and condone the lie. They are taught to expose the liar, under the feeling that in their after lives in the army, truth is the only basis on which they can live with one another and the discipline discipline. Nor are these the only institutions that are determined to ostracize the lie. Rutgers college not long ago actually expelled a student for the one offense of lying to cover up his agency in the preparation of a college tract. -Christian at Work.

ARMIES OF CENTRAL AMERICA.

Importance of the "Commandante" - The Low Caste Private - Artillery Practice.

Traveling from Panama northward along the Pacific coast one is immediately made to feel that each of the Central American governments has an Army. The steamer hardly comes to anchor when a barge rowed by uniformed marines approaches, bringing the "commandante." He is a most important individual, not usually more than 5 feet high, with very dark curly hair. His little form seems to have been melted into his tight fitting blue and red trimmed uniform, his small feet are crowded into smaller shoes, with Louis Quinze heels, and he fairly reels under the weight of enough gold lace to fit out a French marshal or a captain of marines in the United States.

He is a very little man, and as he walks the deck he bows to all the ladies. Then he takes a drink with the captain, and the ship's papers correct and passes ashore. But it is in the interior that you must see the army to form an idea of its efficiency.

The private is a low caste native, he does not show much Castilian blood, he wears sandals instead of shoes, his forage cap is two sizes too large and rests on his ears, and his business seems to be to lie in the sun and to fire salutes to the president. The officers and non-commissioned officers hobnob with the men, and the effect of discipline can be imagined. The array pays little attention to cleanliness; the expense of washing is perhaps the cause of the absence of collars or white linen. Once, when watching an army in San Salvador pass in review before his chief, I could not help thinking of the major's remark to poor Ensign Clutterbuck, "Ensign Clutterbuck," said he, "I am no friend to extravagance, but on the day when we are to pass in review before our sovereign, in the name of God, I would at least show one inch of clean linen."

But wait till Sunday, when the city's militia is marched through the streets in columns of four - platoon marching is never attempted, and "company front" is unheard of. The militia comprises everybody from the soldier who has not enough money to avoid it, down to the one who is too low on the social ladder to carry a gun. Here you have the sickly looking drug clerk, the editor of the opposition paper, the fat butcher, and the stocky soldier, moving side by side; and, queerly enough, many seem to have too much, for nearly half have their jaws tied up in cotton handkerchiefs. This service is not intended as punishment, but it is. With guns at a right shoulder, and at every angle under the sun, they stagger over the cobblestones - up hill and down - after their little German band. From the size of the privates one would suggest popguns as appropriate, but instead they are armed with heavy Remingtons with the bayonets always fixed. When the captain orders their companies to a rest they leave the guns at a carry, and the privates are fools enough to think it all right.

Not many days ago, on the arrival of the president in town, the artillery brought out two small Fourth of July looking cannon to fire him a salute of two guns. One gunner was in a hurry to discharge his piece first, and in his haste he blew off the right arm of No. 1 and sent the sponge and rammer staff flying into a German dry goods store on the other side of the plaza. This was explained as a mistake in tactics. There is no trouble in Central America about the "three battalion organization" or any other organization, because the army does not know what organization is. The slowness of promotion, the fruitful theme of the frontier post and of the "Letters to the Editor," is a thing unknown; privates are always privates and generals are always generals on $200 a month, at a discount of 30 per cent, when there is money in the treasury to pay them. -New York Times.

New Devices in Ice Cream.
There have been some new devices in the way of ice creams, which were novel and interesting. At one grand dinner party a vast rose bush covered with beautiful roses was set up on the table, and the flowers were cut off and one served to each of the guests, the ice cream being unsharpened in the heart of each blossom. Another is a dainty feminine boot in apricot ice.

Sometimes the color of the boot is varied to match the hue of the toilet of the lady guest to whom it is served, gracefully furnishing the crimson, pistache pale green, and a new and perfectly inconspicuous coloring matter is used in supplying a delicate pale blue. The oldest device is a slice of pate de foie gras, one of which is served to each guest. ANCIENT LAKE BONNEVILLE.

Great Salt Lake the Largest Survivor of an Ancient Inland Sea.

The largest of the ancient lakes at present known is Lake Bonneville, the second in size has been named Lake Lahontan. Lake Bonneville was situated on the east border of the Great Basin, principally in Utah, and extended from a few miles north of the Utah-Idaho boundary - 350 miles southward. It flooded all the valley of Great Salt Lake, together with the Sevier and Escalante deserts in southern Utah. It was 125 miles broad and 1,000 feet deep, where Great Salt Lake is now situated. The site of the ancient Lake City was then submerged 850 feet.

Lake Bonneville overflowed northward and became tributary to Snake River, which flows into the Columbia. At various stages its waves and currents formed terraces and gravel bars on the mountain slopes which confined it. These still remain as fresh and perfect as when they were formed, and are in part the records from which the geologist has been able to determine the history of the ancient lake. We know that it rose with many fluctuations until it had a depth of about 900 feet, but it did not overflow. Then a change of climate caused it to contract its borders, and possibly to become completely desiccated. In the lower stages of this desiccation the lake was broken into separate water bodies, which must have been more or less saline.

Another great climatic change caused the basin to be refilled to a higher level than before and to overflow. The water found an outlet at the north end of Cache valley, Idaho, and as we have said, became tributary to the Columbia. The lake continued to overflow until the waters had cut down their outlet 870 feet. During this period, unless there were some peculiar conditions near the point of discharge, the lake must have been fresh. The discharge of the lake was finally stopped by a climatic change which lowered its surface below the bottom of the outlet, and again the basin became partly if not wholly desiccated. This second low water period has continued to the present day, and Great Salt and Sevier lakes are the representatives of ancient Bonneville.

The largest of these representatives of the ancient sea is Great Salt Lake. In 1850 it covered 1,750 and in 1880 2,100 square miles. Its maximum depth is about fifty feet and its mean depth approximately fifteen feet. These recent changes in area are due to small variations in climate, similar in character to the changes which produced the great expansions and contractions of the lake in ancient times. With change in volume there is change in density; that is, the strength of the brine increases with decreased area, and decreases when the lake expands. In 1850 its waters contained about twenty times as much weight of saline matter in solution to 100 parts of water. In 1880 the saline matter had decreased to a little less than 15 and in 1873 to a little more than 14 per cent. This change in salinity was accompanied by increased area.

The waters of the ocean contain 3-10 per cent. of total salts in solution. Great Salt Lake, therefore, in 1850, was six times as saline as the ocean. Like the ocean, too, it holds "many substances in solution; the principal ones are common salt, or sodium chloride, and sodium sulphate; besides these there are small per centages of potassium, magnesium, etc.

The influence of temperature on the solubility of certain saline substances is well illustrated by the case of Utah. In summer its waters are clear and transparent, but as cold weather comes on it becomes milky or opalescent, owing to the precipitation of sodium sulphate in an extremely fine condition. In the depth of winter, when the temperature of the atmosphere above the lake falls far below freezing, an immense quantity of sodium sulphate is precipitated and is thrown ashore by the waves until thousands of tons accumulate on the beach. When the temperature rises, the salt thus precipitated is again dissolved. This natural process of fractional crystallization produced by a lowering of temperature, is instructive, and should suggest to those who are attempting to manufacture salt in Utah, a practical method of treating the natural brines in order to obtain common salt free from sodium sulphate. Lake Sevier is also highly saline, and during the arid season sometimes evaporates to dryness. -Israel C. Russell in Overland Monthly.

Senator Stanford's $100,000 Tomb.
The architect who planned the magnificent mausoleum of Senator Stanford at San Francisco says that it will be the most elaborate repository for the dead ever built in this country. Its style of architecture the simple but effective methods of the ancient Egyptians will be followed. Massive imperishable granite, of a light shade of gray, with an interior lining of the finest Italian marble, will be employed. The item of expense has not been considered, the designers being given carte blanche as to cost and directed to secure the best of material and workmanship to be had.

The total outlay necessary to complete the tomb and prepare the surroundings will reach $100,000, and may considerably exceed that amount. The item of transportation alone will be a large one, as the granite will all be shipped from Vermont and the marble from Italy. The site selected is a beautiful four acre plot in the senator's grounds, just outside of San Francisco. It already contains handsome shrubbery, and occupies an altitude commanding a magnificent view of the bay. A driveway sixty feet wide will be made, circling around a slight elevation, on the brow of which will be the tomb. The art of the landscape gardener will be employed to beautify the approaches and render even more effective the vistas of the park. -New York Mail and Express.

Girls and Their Dolls.
A lady who goes out frequently for a sun bath in Rittenhouse square has noticed that most of the little girl children who congregate there have dolls that are very like themselves. If the child is pampered and spoiled and overdressed, so is the doll; and if, on the other hand, the tiny miss is sedate and mild the doll is likely to partake of the same characteristics. As the child is bent so the doll seems to be inclined. -Philadelphia Times.

Probably an Exaggeration.
Color blindness is twice as common among Quakers as it is among the rest of the community, owing to their having dressed in drab for generations and thus dressed the color sense.

It is said that hawks are frequently seen flying southward on the approach of winter, but are never seen on the return flight, though found again in the north when the winter is past.

MYSTERIOUS FATALITIES.

What is it that is Killing so many Prominent Men?

The death of Kaiser Wilhelm, ex-Gov. Hoffman, Banker J. W. Drexel, Lieut. Gov. Dorchester, Dr. Carpenter, Chief Justice Waite and Genl. B. H. Brewster, in quick succession, and all from the same cause, although having different names, is startling.

March and April are fatal months, not only for consumptives but also for many diseases more disguised but none the less fatal.

Gov. Hoffman had heart disease, Gov. Dorchester, apparently a strong, well, robust man, over six feet high, sickens and dies in four days, of pneumonia.

Chief Justice Waite meets the same fate and he was apparently the personification of vigor.

Drexel, the Philadelphia banker, and Brewster, Ex-Atty. Genl., were suddenly cut off in the midst of great usefulness, by Bright's disease, and Dr. Carpenter, the well-known New York physician, suddenly died of kidney disease, never having suspected that he was at all troubled therewith.

This reminds us of the case of Dr. Frank Hawthorn, of New Orleans. He was lecturing before the Louisiana university on the peculiarly deceptive character of kidney disease, and the methods of microscopical and chemical tests.

After having shown specimen after specimen of diseased fluids, and made very clear the point that kidney disease may exist without the knowledge or suspicion of the patient or practitioner, with gracious self-confidence he remarked, "Now, gentlemen, let me show you the healthy water of a strong, well man."

He applies the test!
He staggers!
Gentlemen, I have made a terrible discovery!" he gasps, "I myself have the fatal Bright's disease!"

In less than a year this specialist of the commonest and most fatal of diseases was dead. He was a victim of advanced kidney disease, the presence of which in himself he had never suspected!

L. B. PRICE, M. D., a gentleman and physician of this coast, attending of Hanover, C. H. Va., four years ago, after trying every other remedy for bright's disease, including famous mineral waters, cured himself by Warner's Safe Cure, and March 24, 1888, wrote: "I have never had the slightest symptom of my old and fearful trouble."

JOHN COLEMAN, Esq., 100 Gregory St., New Haven, Conn., was first taken sick in 1873, gradually ran down until he had pronounced Bright's disease, rheumatism and all the other deadly diseases. The best physicians in New Haven could do nothing for him. He then began

The work of enlarging and renovating the Agua Caliente Springs Hotel at Verano is still progressing. A large force of carpenters, painters and upholsterers are kept busy and it is expected the hotel will be thrown open to the public by the 1st of June.

The workmen engaged in grading and graveling the streets, drives and avenues in the new town of Verano were notified to quit work last Monday morning. The suspension is only temporary, however, and operations will be renewed in about a week.

Chester Ruffner, formerly of this place, has assumed charge of the "Julian Sentinel," published in Julian, San Diego county. Chess, we wish you success in your new venture, and trust that your business will never be handicapped with delinquent subscribers.

The members of the Y. M. I. N. O. will give an open meeting at Union Hall next Tuesday evening. Although one of the youngest societies in this city, having been instituted less than seven months ago, the Y. M. I. N. O. is one of the most permanent in our midst. Its membership is over thirty and is steadily increasing.

The directors car of the Santa Rosa and Carquinez Railroad passed over that road last Monday en route to Santa Rosa. The car contained Col. Fred Crocker, Timothy Hopkins, J. A. Fillmore, E. T. Gerald, J. B. Wright and Engineer Hood. The road from Napa Junction to Santa Rosa was thoroughly inspected and the party returned to San Francisco the same day via Tiburon.

THE ARMY WORM.

It Attacks a Number of Vineyards and is Promptly Stamped Out.
The army worm, which made its appearance in Napa county last week, has invaded this valley. On Monday last the vineyards of J. H. Drummond, Jas. A. Shaw and E. P. Thomson were attacked by the devastating insect and had not the owners taken prompt and effective measures to check its further progress their vineyards would have been completely wiped out. However, a war of extermination was immediately commenced and thousands of the worms were killed and it is now thought their progress in this valley has been stayed. At Agua Caliente the entire population turned out, including the school children, to fight the pest, and the Thomson vineyard, which was threatened with total destruction, was saved with the exception of about one acre. The vineyards of La Motte, Sheppard, Mrs. Warfield and others have also been somewhat damaged by the worm, which is making its way gradually down the valley.

John H. Wheeler, Chief Executive Viticultural Officer, recommends the following remedy as sure death to this most destructive of worms: Spray with Paris green (which must be agitated continually to prevent settling) one pound to 150 gallons of water. This will not harm the fruit or plant, even though the grapes have attained half the size of a pea. If it is feared that livestock may get to the foliage and thereby become poisoned, apply the same solution to cabbage leaves, which if placed near the troubled vines, will attract the attention of cut worms and destroy them. Afterwards these cabbage leaves may be picked up and destroyed, or let to wither without danger.

To apply the Paris green solution use any good spray pump, or syringe will answer for operations on a small scale. Treat particularly well the outside rows of the vineyard and they will never get further than these. If only a few infest the vines they may be hunted on the foliage and destroyed by hand.

Meeting of the Republican County Central Committee.

A meeting of the Republican Central Committee of Sonoma county was held at Santa Rosa Wednesday. There were present S. I. Allen, Chairman; H. C. Brown, Secretary; John Favour, W. Van Voost, J. McGaughey, J. F. Smith, H. W. Byington, M. D. Hopkins, Chas. J. Poppe, Chas. R. Peters, Jas. McDonnell, Jr., E. A. Seagelken and G. W. Huntley.

It was decided to hold the primaries on Saturday, July 21st, the county nominating convention to be held the following Wednesday. The basis of representation was changed to one delegate to each forty votes cast for Blaine and Logan electors.

The Chairman and Secretary were instructed to prepare the call for the county convention and have the same published and posted.

Chairman Allen announced the members of the executive committee as follows, the number first being increased to seven: The members of the committee from Santa Rosa and Mr. Lougee of Petaluma, and Mr. Favour of Healdsburg.

The Santa Rosa Cannery.

The new warehouse of the Santa Rosa Cannery will be finished this week, and the cannery will commence operations for the season soon after the 1st of June. The cherry yield this season is not sufficiently large to supply the cannery with material until the other fruits are ready for canning, so the cherries which have been purchased are being shipped to the Cutting Packing Company in San Francisco. Mr. Perry, the Superintendent, says that he will give employment to 400 or 500 hands during the season, and that he expects to can 40,000 cases of fruit per day. The resources of the establishment have been greatly increased since last season, and a prosperous year is expected.—Santa Rosa Democrat.

Thin Out Your Fruit.

In riding around it can be seen that a great many peach and nectarine trees are over-loaded with fruit, having three times the quantity of fruit on them that they should have. Within the next two weeks is the proper time to pick them off. Do not be afraid of taking off too many, as one nice large peach is worth four small ones. In thinning, first aim to give the fruit a space of three inches each to grow in, and you will then have as much fruit in weight on the trees as by leaving all on, and besides, it will all be merchantable.—Fresno Examiner.

A Successful Entertainment.

The entertainment and festival given by the ladies of the Congregational Church at Union Hall last Tuesday evening was a success in every sense of the word. By 8 o'clock the large hall was crowded, about two-thirds of those present being ladies. The stage was tastefully decorated with evergreens and flowers and the various booths around the hall were presided over by a number of Sonoma's fair daughters, who, after the program had been carried out, served delicious ice cream, strawberries and lemonade, and thus helped to swell the receipts of the evening to a very neat sum. The following entertainment program was well carried out and heartily enjoyed by the audience: Opening chorus, "The Coming of Spring," Mrs. J. P. Weems, Mrs. A. H. Fioda, Mrs. Webster, Mrs. Wikoff, Mrs. Dr. Davis, Miss Hattie Bond and Miss Lottie Morris; "The Broom Brigade," composed of thirteen little girls with Miss Anabel McDonnell as captain; vocal solo, Mrs. Webster; "Greek Tables," Joanna Tobin, Myra Moore, Tillie Just, Clara Wilson, Josie Dunn, Zola Clark, Clara Cheney, Eva Snyder, Ida Ewing, Annie Robertson, Lily Dunn, Willie Akers, Florence Marvel, Millie Skinner, Anna Hendrickson and Florence Linehan; recitation, Miss Hattie Bond of Oakland; vocal solo, "Marguerite," Mrs. Weems. The entertainment closed with the laughable farce entitled, "Never Reckon Your Chickens Before they are Hatched," in which the following took part: Misses Minnie Cook, Ida Ewing and Lottie Morris, Messrs J. Morris, J. P. Weems and J. H. Madison.

Improve Your Farm.

A well-ordered farm, well-chosen stock, comfortable buildings, a neatly-kept garden, roadway, or entrance way, gates well hung, fences well kept, shade trees, ornamental shrubbery, paint without and white wash within—all these are worth more to a farmer in money value than a few hundred dollars carefully scraped together, and hoarded and loaned to needy neighbors at interest. No investment pays so well as money judiciously spent in farm improvements. Draining wet land will pay 50 to 100 per cent on its cost every year; good stock will pay equally well; good roads will turn their cost every year; a gate will save its cost in a short time; a good fence will save its cost in one night; a well kept garden, a neat lawn, orchard and shade trees, which need not cost $100, have added ten times that amount to the value of a farm, and the comfort and self-respect gained through the outlay for these and for their possession are worth more than double their cost.

Dismissed.

Tuesday being the day set for the trial of the case of J. E. Hall against the City of Santa Rosa for $10,000 damages for depositing sewage in Santa Rosa creek near the plaintiff's residence, the attorneys for the defense interposed a motion to dismiss. Judge McCarvey was presiding in the place of Judge Pressley, both he and Judge Rutledge being disqualified by reason of interest. The ground of the motion was that the claim had not been presented to the City Council for allowance, as required by ordinance, previous to bringing suit. The motion was readily decided in favor of the city. Plaintiff's attorneys, Henley & Oates, say they will make it cost the city more than if they had taken the claim. The claims will be presented and suit commenced anew.—Democrat.

A $5,000 Suit.

Sallie C. Hart, has brought suit to recover $5,000 from William Kissane Rogers for services rendered by her deceased husband as attorney, and for cause of action avers that between August 1, 1886, and January 1, 1888, said Hart twice went from this State to New York and Arkansas and performed services in and about certain legal proceedings against the defendant under the name of Wm. Kissane, then pending in said States. It is averred that Hart was only paid $750 for such services which were reasonably worth $5,000.—Bulletin, May 23.

A Sound Legal Opinion.

E. Bainbridge Munday Esq., County Atty., Clay Co., Texas, says: "Have used Electric Bitters with most happy results. My brother was also very low with Malaria, Fever and Jaundice, but was cured by timely use of this medicine. Am satisfied Electric Bitters saved his life." Mr. D. I. Wilcoxson, of Horse Cave, Ky., adds a like testimony, saying: "He positively believes he would have died, had it not been for Electric Bitters. This great remedy will ward off, as well as cure all Malaria Diseases, and for all Kidney, and Liver and Stomach Disorders stands unequalled. Price 50c. and $1. at E. Wegner's Drug Store."

THE GREAT DRAWBRIDGE.

The Structure that Connects the S. F. & N. P. R. R. with the S. V. R. R.
On Sunday morning last a party of ladies and gentlemen visited the great drawbridge across Petaluma creek, now completed, which connects the Sonoma Valley Railroad with the S. F. & N. P. R. R., and which is the largest and most perfect structure of the kind in the State, being 226 feet in length. The turn-table, 66 feet in circumference. Each opening is large enough to permit the passage of two vessels abreast. The object of the visit was to inspect this rare specimen of engineering skill and also to surprise the gentlemanly Assistant Engineer, B. Wheeler, who has made his headquarters in Sonoma during the past year. The young ladies composing the party, armed and equipped with all the paraphernalia necessary for a day's siege and accompanied by a number of gentlemen escorts, boarded the cars at Sonoma and after a short and pleasant ride arrived at their destination, where they were joined by a number of friends. After an inspection and test of the workings of the drawbridge, which was entirely satisfactory, all present without reserve commended Chief Engineer Zook and Superintendent Cotten for their skill and efficiency. After a boat ride and ramble on the shores of the bay the ladies informed their escorts that they had provided a lunch, which was forthwith spread out before the astonished and hungry guests whose appetites craved something to satisfy the wants of the inner man, superinduced by the bracing sea breeze and tramp. It was unanimously resolved by the gentlemen present that while men could build bridges and such like the thoughtful ladies were the most successful architects in bridging over the hungry chasm. There was a jovial interchange and a pleasant gathering which was universally appreciated. Those who participated were Misses Etta Raschen, Annie Raschen, Annie Church, Lilla Holje, Hattie Bond, and Messrs. J. P. Meyers, A. J. Blake, Capt. M. J. Brink, F. Cotten, G. W. Boschke, Engineer Wheeler and a number of others whose names were not obtained. The honor of first crossing this great structure by a lady was accorded to one of Sonoma's fair daughters.

Who is Your Best Friend

Your stomach of course. Why? Because if it is out of order you are one of the most miserable creatures living. Give it a fair honorable chance and see if it is not the best friend you have in the end. Don't smoke in the morning. Don't drink in the morning. If you must smoke and drink wait until your stomach is through with breakfast. You can drink more and smoke more in the evening and it will tell on you less. If your food ferments and does not digest right—if you are troubled with Heartburn, Dizziness of the head, coming up of the food after eating, Biliousness, Indigestion, or any other trouble of the stomach, you had best use Green's August Flower, as no person can use it without immediate relief.

NEW TO-DAY.

SCROFULA

Is that impurity of the blood which produces unsightly lumps or swellings in the neck; which causes running sores on the arms, legs, or feet; which develops ulcers in the eyes, ears, or nose, often causing blindness or deafness; which is the origin of pimple, cancerous growths, or "humors," which, fastening upon the lungs, causes consumption and death. It is the most ancient of all diseases, and very few persons are entirely free from it.

How Can CURED

By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, which, by the remarkable cures it has accomplished, has proven itself to be a potent and peculiar medicine for this disease. If you suffer from scrofula, try Hood's Sarsaparilla. "Every spring my wife and children have been troubled with scrofula, my little boy, three years old, being a terrible sufferer. Last spring he was one mass of sores from head to foot. We all took Hood's Sarsaparilla, and all have been cured of the scrofula. My little boy is entirely free from sores, and all four of my children look bright and healthy." W. B. ATHERTON, Passaic City, N. J.

100 Doses One Dollar

Low Ceilings Fashionable.

Fashion has decided in favor of low ceilings at home. It has decided that it is very difficult to furnish a high-ceilinged room so that it shall look cozy and inviting. In fact, fashion doesn't believe that a room with a high ceiling can be properly handled at all. In view of these discoveries, it is growing customary, the Sun says, in New York, to put in false ceilings of canvas at a height of about nine feet from the floor. Then the canvas is treated with frescoing, or tinting, or paneling, with light gilt work as the decorator pleases.

That Highway of Nations.

The broad Atlantic, is ever a stormy thoroughfare. You blow the winds ever so fiercely, and ride the waves ever so loftily, seamen must man the good ships, tourists will brave the passage, and commercial travelers and buyers must visit the centres of foreign trade and manufacture. That atrocious malady, sea-sickness, together with colicky pains and much inward uneasiness is often endured when Hostetter's Stomach Bitters would have fortified the voyagers against them. Sea captains, and in fact all sailors and veteran travelers are acquainted with the protective value of this estimable preventive and remedy, and are rarely unprovided with it. Emigrants to the far West should use it as a safeguard against Malaria. Seek the aid of the Bitters for dyspepsia, constipation, liver complaint, kidney troubles, and all ailments that impair the harmonious and vigorous action of the vital powers.

The Occidental Hotel, under the management of Mr. R. D. Moore and his estimable wife, is growing in popularity every day.
